The long talks at 'Evo' and the memorable cleat (I swear we weren't doing anything Mrs. M.) The numerous phone calls were always a blast too. I'll never forget all of our great times - we have had a "blast"! You're a really special friend Sandy, don't forget to keep in touch. Good luck always. Love ya!

Sandola,

2 Well, what can I say? Can you even believe our H.S. years are over? We've been through so much these past years & it's been great. We have so many bitchen' memories - ones I'll always remember! Such as all our shadow days when we were single & the ones w/ just the girls (getting busted), SDRO; ACDC night, the long talks, doing—'s, "Kris, there are 2 boys here to see you—," the Hall parties, w/ Dana at the pool, Magic Mtn. - barfhead, Gradnight, Prom, there are so many - especially when we were single. You are such a bitchen person like me & I'm so glad I had your friendship. You're a very special person to me & I know we'll always keep in touch! This is so weird writing this - that it's over - I can't even believe it. I don't really know what to say except I'll always remember the great fun we've had & I love ya!!! I know you'll get whatever you want from life cuz you deserve it & you can do it!!! I do expect you to visit me alot & I know I'll be here to visit alot too! It's weird that we never say it - but I'm glad we were (are) best friends!!!! Anyway, pussy, enough w/ the sentimental B.S. - We'll have a great summer. I love ya!

Love,
Kris

High school is one of the most emotional periods in our lives. Everyone at one time or another experiences the agony of failure, the joy of triumph, the feelings of happiness and contentment, or those of sorrow and restlessness. We'll always remember the friends we made, sometimes more than just platonic. All those fun times with those we love, and the bad times too, will never be forgotten. All these make the memories of high school precious . . . ones not easily to be forgotten. High school "memories" . . . just "silent touches of time."

"No, I'm not crazy!"

Many of our Eagle students are "natives" of our impressive and great school. Although many are hard workers who set high standards for themselves and obtain high grades, let it be said that we "natives" know how to relax and get maybe just a little bit crazy! Some experts say that one's true personality will be revealed when he is under pressure . . . I wonder who believes that!!!

Lunch at Granite Hills means many different things to different students. For some students, lunch is a time for being with friends, gossiping, and planning the weekend. For others, it is a time to finish their homework and to study for their afternoon classes. Many people eat the school's food, and the favorites seem to be burritos, cookies, malts, and pizza. Above all, lunch is a time to socialize and to relax, and is many students' favorite time of the day.

Dr. Smith addresses her new school.

This year's traditional freshmen initiation and spirit assembly was a great success. The new staff and freshmen "turkeys" ran through an aisle made of the varsity football team and cheerleaders to become official "eagles." This new initiation, instead of the old style of a mob flap, was a success because most turkeys were forced to flap their wings to show their true eagle spirit. Our new principal, Dr. Jo Ann Smith, along with the new staff, football players, cheerleaders, ASB officers, and, of course, the school mascot, Ernie, were introduced. In the banana eating contest the freshmen once more were tricked into their overwhelming victory.

This year's assembly was a rousing success.

Freshmen become official eagles.

A SPIRITED TRADITION CONTINUES

Jarod and Tony struggle to finish first in the Sleeping Bag Race.

It is a tradition that the first week of each school year classes compete with each other for the Spirit Trophy. The students do crazy stunts like the Toilet Paper Wrap, the Sleeping Bag Race and the Whipped Cream Eating Contest. Unfortunately, this year Spirit Week was shortened because of the heat, so there were fewer days for the crazy stunts. Luckily the crowds on stunt days were enthusiastic and spirited.

FRIENDS

"THE ONLY WAY
TO HAVE ONE

EMERSON

At Granite Hills High School, friendship is a very important part of everyday life. Not only do we develop relationships at school, but we carry them on into our private time. We count on friends in good or bad times. Friends are there when we need them to give congratulations for the projects that we achieve, to give encouragement, and just to talk to. Most importantly, friends are the people that make our days enjoyable and bearable.

CRAZIES INVADE

Jim shows his winning rock and roll spirit.

Tooth fairies, vampires, crayons, headless horsemen, and French maids too numerous to count invaded our campus to celebrate Halloween. Most faculty and students alike dressed up in some very original and creative costumes this year, showing the true Halloween spirit at Granite Hills. Some students went all out and spent a lot of money to create some of these unique costumes, and most of them were very successful. Halloween was alive and exciting at Granite Hills in 1983.

FADS-'N-FASHIONS . . . THE NEW SCENE

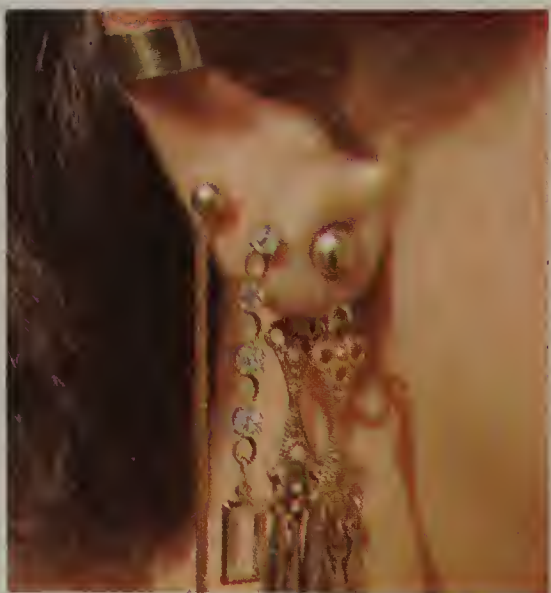

A new era in fads and fashions seems to have invaded Granite Hills High School. Gone is the preppy look of yesteryear. Instead, the more unusual looks includes multiple earrings on guys, the flash dance look, trench coats (but no flashers), New Wave, and lots of hats. Other clothing fashions mocks the Paris look, but most still were traditional jeans and sweaters. Cars were in, as usual, but most popular this year are pick-up trucks and the VW bug.

The Mod Squad hangs out at Am Vets, a favorite clothing source.

Earrings were worn by girls and guys alike.

Yeah! Schools finally almost over. I'm super glad that we had some classes together this year and the past four years. We for sure have to do things together and I'll be seeing you at ASU. MUSIC AND MOVIES . . . A

Sandy,
I'm really glad that I got to know you better this year in Computer Programming. I hope I see you a lot over the summer at the beach. I can't believe that we are already graduating. It feels so weird. I hope I see you at Grossmont next year so I can stop and talk to you every once in a while. I hope you have a real summer and good luck in the future. Love always,
David

As teenagers, we spend a great deal of time and money on music and movies. The movie "Flashdance" was among the most popular films, and had numerous songs in the top ten. Return of the Jedi, third in the Star Wars trilogy — was a huge box office success. In fact, many people saw it more than once. Wargames was another popular movie, partly because of the computer influence.

Music this year was of a wide variety. New Wave music has become quite popular with the students. Such groups as The Talking Heads, Madness, The Specials, David Bowie, and Billy Idol were among the favorites. Hard core rock has also had a big comeback with groups such as Def Leppard, Quiet Riot, and Motley Crue. There is always the ever popular top 40 which will always include more contemporary music.

Some popular movies of this year shine from album covers.

WE PLAY OUR WAY TO FRIDAY

Through the week of October 31 to November 4, Eagle students were busy raising spirit for the Homecoming Game against El Cajon High School. Homecoming week was full of many activities such as: Halloween costume contest, jello eating contest, musical chairs, licorice eating contest, leg auction, VW Bug push, Toga day, and the Pep assembly on Friday. Throughout the week, money was collected for fireworks. Although the old method of using a can to collect money during lunch was used, something new was tried. Money was collected in the classroom during second period. The winning classrooms were Mr. Williams and Miss Owens. Over $950.00 was collected in 8 days. The week ended with a Pep assembly on Friday, featuring the alumni, the air band, the cheerleaders, a Roman scene, a visit from the EC cheerleaders, and the grape catching contest, which was performed by the alumni. Overall, the week was a huge success.

Suzette is determined to win.

The air crackled with excitement and tension as five lovely girls and five handsome guys awaited those five magic words, "The 1983 Homecoming Queen is . . ." This year's theme, "The Roman Eagles," a repeat from the past, had its own flavor. Hard-working ASB students prepared the equipment as the marching band played "Bugler's Dream," "Africa," "Can't help falling in love," and "Almost like a song."

The Queen candidates and escorts journeyed around the track in 4x4 mini trucks. When the Queen candidates and honorary Princesses were lined up, Teresa Kraft, 1982 Homecoming Queen, was ready to announce the winner . . . Cindy Bentley was crowned 1983 Homecoming Queen. After the coronation, the stadium exploded with fireworks. Then everyone moved to the gym for the disco dance and crowning of the King, Carlos Moreno, by last year's King, Jerry Raskin. Dancing, with remarks by a traveling DJ, topped off this exciting week.

SENIORS START A NEW TRADITION

"Sold for $105 to Ron Lechien!" screams the auctioneer. The senior parking lot auction, new to Granite Hills this year, raised $1700 for the senior prom but not without controversial overtones. Senior class officers worked diligently to convince skeptics that, tradition or not, auctioning spaces is an appropriate way to raise money. Forty-five students took the challenge, bought spaces, and decorated them. Other seniors still park in the rest of the senior spaces while the prestigious "45" bask in their beautified spaces and have the satisfaction of supporting their class and of contributing to their prom.

Successful bidders, John and Michelle smile in triumph.

A more conservative look marks Janine's parking space.

"Sold" shouts Floyd Jones, a professional auctioneer.

With her creative space, Pam gets the center of attention, especially from cat lovers.

Debbie works diligently to finish her parking space masterpiece.

HERE COMES THE BRIDE . . .

Mock brides and grooms marched through the wedding ceremonies, shedding real tears and real feelings as the Family Relations class staged its annual mock wedding. The blushing brides, Dusty Jackson and Carolyn Mitchell, adjusted their dresses and veils and tried not to laugh as they watched their intended grooms, Joe Morello and Mitch Atkinson. An adjacent classroom joined with the frivolity with a sign advertising quick, cheap divorces!

The formal aspect of the wedding prevailed, though, from the matching formal suits that Night 'n Day Formal Wear loaned the men to the picture-perfect wedding cakes crafted by Brenda Smith and Mrs. Schultz. Overall, the ceremonies were a success, and will be remembered by all who were involved.

DECATHLON SUCCEEDS

Coaches: Mrs. Jordan, Mr. Sebastian, Mrs. Jones, Mrs. Metzgar, Mrs. Franzini, Mr. Williams, and Mrs. Brooks.

All of the hard work by both students and teachers paid off in the Academic Decathlon. Granite Hills placed fifth overall out of thirty-one teams from all over San Diego county.

The participants were John Jensen and Darrin Doud in the A-average Honor category, Becky Edelman and Alex Irvine in the B-average Scholastic category, and Kim St. Martin and Tricia Meler in the C-average Varsity category. Polly Haisha, Charles Kemna, Jim Carlson and Chuck Gegax were the alternates.

All ten of the students prepared for two months prior to the event at 6:30 a.m., lunch, and after school study sessions. The six competitors were tested in the areas of Language and Literature, Fine Arts, Science, Social Science, Mathematics, Economics, Speech, Interview, and Essay at the November 19th decathlon.

Kim St. Martin received a 1000 on her essay, the only perfect score from any school.

The final event of the day at Patrick Henry High's gym was the Super Quiz. Granite Hills won first place in this exciting event, which led to a feature in the San Diego Union. Mrs. Brooks, Mrs. Franzini, Mrs. Jones, Mrs. Jordan, Mr. Sebastian, Mr. Williams and Mrs. Metzgar were the coaches for the team. All the coaches and team members were honored at a banquet on December 10th at the Town & Country Hotel. Already, Mr. Sebastian is preparing for the second San Diego Academic Decathlon!

EXCELLENCE

In biology, students learn much about the world around them. With the help of microscopes, students learn about a whole new world that they have never seen before. The class centers on the living, studying subjects such as the animal kingdom, bacteria, plants, and embryology. This class is very interesting and informative, and the students gain a better understanding of life on earth.

Physics is a course taught by Mr. Stowers. This course is concerned with the relationship between matter and energy. It is a very interesting course dealing with physical sciences.

Physics: Gary Eckwortzel.

Biology: Darrin Doud.

Chemistry is a physical science which deals with the composition of matter and the reactions among various forms of matter. This course, through labs, experiments, and written work, gives the students a taste of what a chemist is and what he does.

Chemistry: Laura Barton and Elizabeth Bell.

ABOUNDS

Honors psychology is the first semester of this advanced senior course. The students study different psychologists and do a lot of work at the beginning. Later, they concentrate on one type of psychology, perform an experiment with it, and write a ten to thirty page final paper.

The second semester is Honors Civics. The class forms a "House of Students" which passes laws, and the students themselves become politicians. Types of government such as communism, socialism, and fascism are studied.

Honors Civics / Psychology: Laura McMillan and Richard Butcher.

Calculus: John Jensen and Laura McMillan.

Computer Programming: John Jensen, Daniel Davis, and Chuck Anderson.

Calculus, taught by Mrs. Franzini, is a small honors course because a prerequisite in algebra in the eighth grade. To anyone outside of this class, their problems would be like a different language. These problems are interesting because one problem usually will fill up the whole blackboard. This class prepares students for college calculus. The math ranges from differential calculus to analytical algebra and even integral calculus.

Computer Programming is a lab class which requires a year of algebra and geometry before a student can take it. The students work on their own computers each period. Granite Hills is the only school in the district with enough computers to do this. The class uses BASIC language and the students work on individual projects and workbooks throughout the year.

STUDENTS EXCEL IN

Basic Clothing: Michelle Cunningham.

In the semester course of Basic Clothing the students are introduced to the sewing machines and to the basics of sewing. They begin sewing with a simple pattern, such as a skirt or top. As the students gradually learn the different stitches, they move on to new projects like dresses. The students emerge from this course prepared to advance onto the more difficult clothing classes.

In Photography, the students learn all about cameras and to take many different types of pictures, such as bird's-eye-view, sandwich negatives, and double exposure photos. Each day the students can check out cameras, sign out of class, and roam around the school searching for interesting subjects for their lenses. The students develop their own film. The photo students really gain a lot of knowledge and experience in this class.

In Crafts, the students make many interesting projects, including wood projects, soldering, brass jewelry, and plaster sculptures. The students enjoy this class because they can do a variety of projects that are really interesting.

The art class is really much more than just plain drawing pictures. There is great variety in the art projects, and the students do vertical line pictures, acrylic paints, pastels, airbrush, embossing, and grid pictures. This class also sees many films about famous artists. The class requires a lot of hard work, as students gain a vast knowledge of art.

Electronics, taught by Mr. Green, includes activities ranging from building radios and buzzers to watching films about robots, electronics, and airplanes. As each project is finished, students write papers about that particular project. This class is interesting and exciting.

Wood shop, taught by Mr. Johnson, produces projects anywhere from key racks to small furniture. This class allows students to work at their own pace and produce fine wood projects.

Auto Shop, taught by Mr. Mass, is open to tenth grade students. Basics of auto repair and management as well as many of the systems in the car fill the curriculum.

Photography: Michelle Stewart. Crafts: Mike Sprague. Art: Cathy McCalvin.

Electronics: Raul Pinto. Woods: Jeff Schilling. Auto Shop: David Allen.

ELECTIVE COURSES

Typing: Celine Vachon; Accounting: Denise Meza; Advanced Business Courses: Rebecca Nacke.

Choir: Bonnie Wannamaker and Sara Carroll.

Choir is an enjoyable class for students who love to sing. To join, students must take individual voice tests in front of the class with Mr. Murphy grading and accompanying them on the piano. The choir works long and hard for each of its concerts, beginning practices for the Christmas concert during the summer. Our choir sometimes even practices and sings with the Grossmont College choir. The Honor Choir goes on tour about twice a year to places like Palm Springs and Catalina. Overall, the students do not mind all of the hard work because they enjoy the rewards the work produces.

In typing, each student uses one of the school's manual typewriters each period. The students gradually memorize where each of the keys is located. After this, the students begin to take timed typing tests which are graded on the number of mistakes and the number of words typed. The students also learn how to type various kinds of business letters, footnotes, and other papers that are used in business.

Accounting is a very interesting business course. This class is very helpful in that it teaches students about business. During first semester, the students are required to finish a business simulation where he or she takes care of all the books for an imaginary business.

There are many advance business courses at Granite Hills, such as shorthand, business skills lab, typing, and accounting. The students who take these courses are preparing themselves for an excellent future in the business world.

Band, taught by Mr. Downs, involves a variety of activities. In the fall, most of the students join the marching band, which competes against other schools and performs at football games. The rest of the year, the students compete as a symphonic band, and the pep band plays at basketball games. Students in this class devote many hours to practicing, performing, and having a good time together.

Band: John Chamberlin and Jamie Brees.

STUDENTS ACHIEVE

Mr. Fremont's advanced French classes are enjoyed by many of his students. During class the students occasionally do oral speeches to the rest of the class, and sometimes the classes even sing songs! (in French, of course).

In Spanish classes, after learning grammar and practicing sentence structure, sometimes orally, the assignments begin to get longer and more involved. The more advanced Spanish classes write compositions and perform oral "charlas" in front of the class. Students enjoy the Spanish classes because of the variety of assignments.

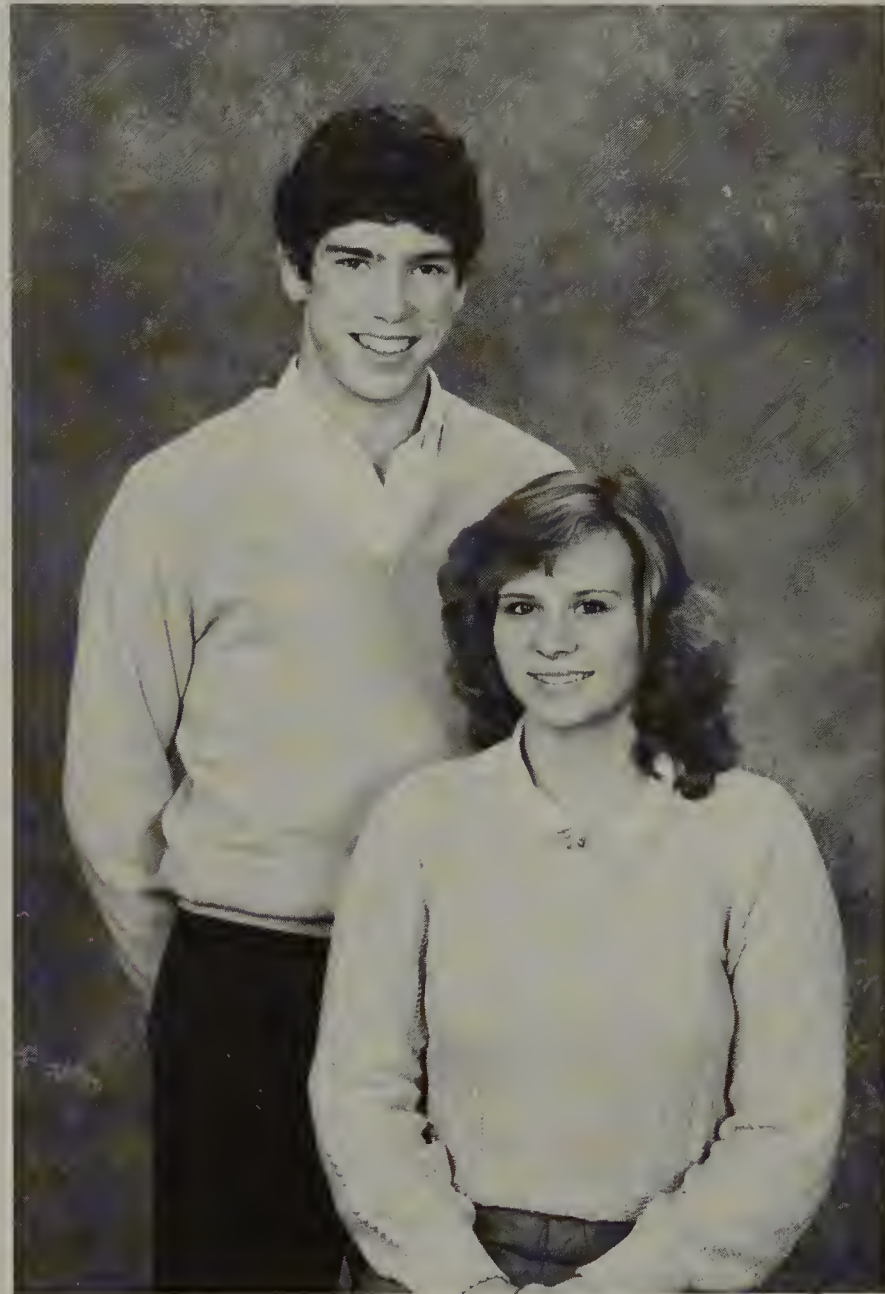

Mythology: Cindy Cole; Science Fiction: Rae Wilson.

Mythology is an English course featuring primarily Greek and Roman myths. The myths studied also include Norse, Indian, African, and Asian. This class is very interesting and is enjoyed by the many students who take it.

The Science Fiction class, taught by Mr. Sebastian, is a very interesting class filled with questions that make students think for themselves. The book most talked about in this class is 1984 by George Orwell. Students discuss the parallels between the book and the real 1984. Some of the other books read by the students include The Martian Chronicles and Brave New World.

In Expository Writing, the object is to learn how to write many different types of essays, such as the research paper, definition papers, argumentative essays, and opinion papers. The students read A Separate Peace, which is the basis of a critical analysis. The weekly vocabulary tests broaden the students' knowledge of the English language. Overall, although Expository Writing is a hard class, the students learn the much-needed writing skills to succeed in college.

Creative Writing, taught by Mr. Sebastian, encourages writing in many different styles. A major emphasis is put on poetry. Students learn to write many different types ranging from Haikus to Diamonds and Free Verse. Each Friday an average of five pages is due from each student. These pages can be anything that the students have written themselves. The variety of written assignments keeps this course very interesting.

French: Scott Emery; Spanish: Michelle Zehnder.

Expository Writing: Carla Riley; Creative Writing: Mike Badami.

EXCELLENCE IN LANGUAGE

In American Literature, the class reads books, such as Huckleberry Finn, Of Mice and Men, The Grapes of Wrath, and The Crucible. While reading these books, they learn about the authors and take essay tests. This class also studies transcendentalism and poetry. Throughout the semester, the students write two major papers and take a college-type final at the end of the class. It is a class for those who like a challenge.

The students in World Literature read and study famous classics such as A Day in the Life of Ivan Denisovitch, Les Miserables, The Plague, and All Quiet on the Western Front. They also read numerous short stories and see movies like Crime and Punishment and Dr. Zhivago. This class is very interesting because of the variety of books, movies, and authors.

English Literature, taught by Miss Roisman, is generally a survey course focusing on England from the Anglo Saxon times to the modern era. This class is interesting on account of the diverse subjects.

The special program of Honors English begins in the freshman year with Mrs. Metzgar. In this class, the students are introduced to writing, grammar, literature, and monthly Advanced Placement Book Reports, on books chosen from a list of classics. The sophomore year, with Mr. Sebastian, more influence is put on improving each student's writing. The students study many books. Most of the students' favorite part of this class is "Mr. S's" mind-provoking class discussions. Mrs. Jones teaches the Junior class Honors, which reads many books and writes in-depth essays about them. During the Senior year, Mrs. Jordan prepares the class to take the Advanced Placement English Test, which, if a student passes it, allows the student to skip his freshman year of college English.

.R.: Honors English: Darrin Doud (11), Jim Carlson (12), John Jensen (12), Chris Johnson (10), Joel Downer (10). B.R.: Susan Turk (9), Kimberly Saint Martin (12), Elizabeth rcher (9). N.P.: Anne McAdams (11).

Sandy,
Hey buddy, I'm glad that we are friends but know you for a long time. You still are the crazy and
I hope you stay crazy

We have to go in the Real WORLD. Good-luck in the future. I know you're going far. Please keep in touch when you can. Don't forget swim practices and the Back ache, and the headache.
Just the plain aches. I'll miss you.

Don't Cry

Don't cry child,
You'll get by.
Life isn't easy,
It's no piece of pie.
But lift your head anyway,
Smile a nice smile
And don't cry child,
Wear your mask
All the while.

CREATIVE

After a while you learn
The subtle difference between
Holding a hand and chaining
A soul.
You learn that love doesn't
Mean leaning and company
Doesn't mean security;
And you begin to learn that
Kisses aren't contracts
And presents aren't promises
And you begin to accept
Your defeats with your

Head up, and your eyes
Opened . . .
With the grace of
Adulthood, not the grief
Of a child.
You learn to build all
Your roads on today —
Because tomorrow's ground
Is too uncertain; for plans
And futures have a way of falling down in mid-flight.

The things we've shared and the scraps of life we told about will always be there. Linger in memory somewhere. I turned my emotions inside out and my life upside down for you. But don't think that I regret one minute of it. One moment of selfless beauty is worth years of empty meaning.

There is a kind of beauty in effort that blossoms into utter perfection when love prevails.
Time is but an invention of man, an intangible dimension. Yet if there is such a thing as forever,
that's how long I'll love you.

Freedom

One Saturday I saw
A sparrow glide through the sky,
Tilt his wings, and cut the air.
I suddenly wished for his freedom.

He flies where he wishes,
No strings attached.
He lives upon whims of the moment.
I watched him wistfully,
Wishing for his freedom.

I came to the wishing well in the park,
And I dug into my pocket for a penny.
I closed my eyes and
Wished for the freedom of a sparrow.

I opened my eyes and tossed the penny
 Into the deep blue of the well.
 I watched the coin tumble as it sank
 And came to rest with hundreds of whims,
 Like mine.
 Perhaps some of the pennies were spent
 For the freedom of a sparrow.

Bestest of Friends

We've been together for a long, long time,
When we drifted apart you didn't seem to mind.
I'll never forget the memories we had,
About guys, places, funny times and sad.
We were bound to be friends from the very start,
We'll always be friends deep down in our hearts.
It seems our good times never want to end,
We cry, we laugh, we're the bestest of friends.
We have so many secrets that we'll never tell,
We've had our good times and we've been through hell.
You're my special friend I'll always care,
We have so much in common and so much we'll share!

Soul Searching

While we go through life in a hurried state
In our haste, we forget what matters.
The love of a friend.
The cry that won't end.
To inspire the former.
And curtail the latter.

We drown our virtues in the material realm.
We hunt, hate, and steal.
Yet in our world of illusion,
We forget what lovers feel.
The heartwarming embrace of a friend in need.
Or the trembling lips of love's fury, when freed.

I'm Not Her

Sitting outside on that last
Summer night,
Staring at the stars.
As our song plays on the radio,
A small tear glides down my face . . .
You're on my mind.
If only you could have accepted me
for what I am,
Not for what I'm not . . .
I'm not her.

By Kelly Pilon

The darkness is around you
 You cannot see the light
 You cannot see the shadow of a cloud
 Unless you're standing in the light.

The light shines bright
 The darkness only tries
 If you like the darkness
 You're believing only lies.
 By Shannon Neil Wafford

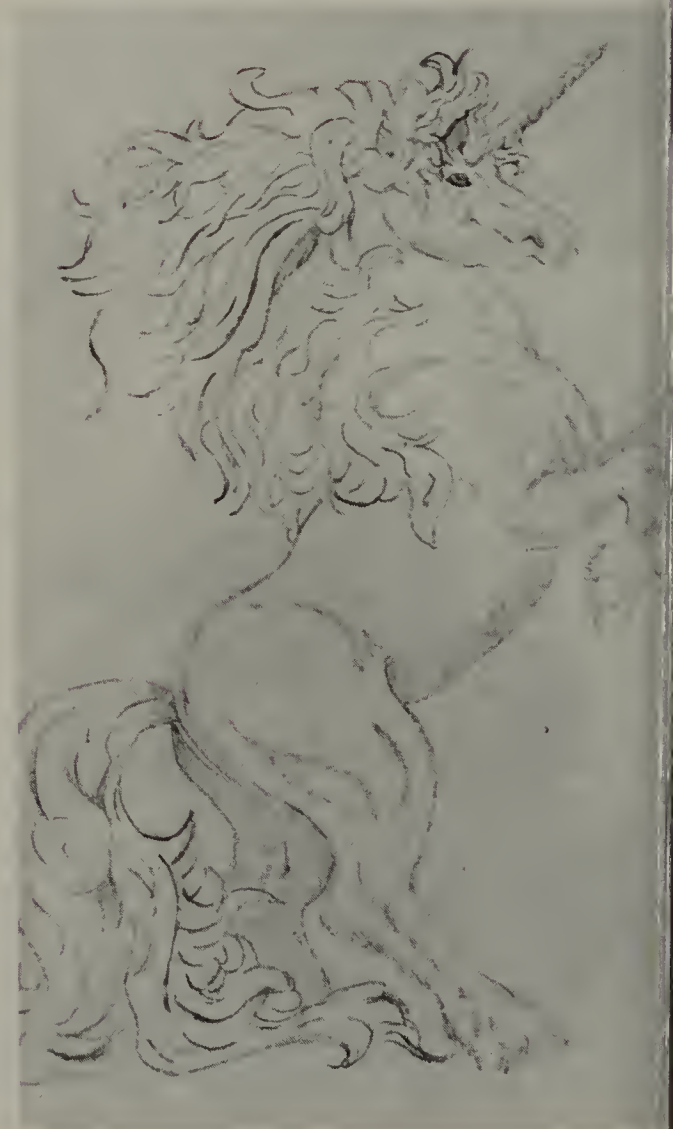

The ocean of time
 Meets the sandy shore of life.
 With each wave,
 The ocean claims a few grains of sand
 To add to the many already consumed.
 Yet, as time consumes life,
 It occurs so gradually that we never realize how short life is Until our shore is nearly Washed away.

Special . . . For You

I would never have made it
Anywhere
Not without some care.
Whenever I needed someone
You were always there.
I just wanted to say thank you
For everything you've done.
Whenever I talked
You listened.
Whatever I wanted
You gave.
We've had our differences in the past.
But managed to push them aside.
I'm not easy to get along with
And I know I've made it hard to be
friends,
But somehow you've always been there
And somehow you've always showed care.
And this one's for you
For just being there.

Thank you so much
For just being my friend.
by Cheryl Brinkley

My Friend

I give all to you my friend
My love and honor
My warmth and comfort

I will stay with you my friend
Through good times and bad
Whether happy or sad

I want all for you my friend
Success and happiness
A long and healthy life

I will pray for you my friend
For wisdom and guidance
For patience and understanding

All I ask from you my friend
Is that you stay with me
And pray with me
And that you share with me
And care for me
My friend.

Sandy, it has been more fun having you in Biology now than it was in Algebra when we were freshmen. Maybe it's because that we're more mature... maybe. All the best in the future and I hope to see you soon.

1984 SENIOR BREAKFAST

Cindy and Tobi's other side!

Mika and Peter show their school spirit.

This year's Senior Breakfast was held at Bob's Big Boy on Main Street on Halloween morning at 6:30 AM. Most Seniors did dress up, and their costumes ranged from crayons to Boy George. Even some faculty including Mrs. Jordan, Mrs. Brooks, and Mr. and Mrs. Zumwalt got up early to attend the morning's festivities. Although the food service was not always fast, Seniors enjoyed being with friends before returning to their first period class.

Pucker up, sweetie!!!

Aw, guys . . .

INTELLECT CLUBS

German Club B.R.: Mrs. Zumwalt, Charles Kenna, Kerri McCarty, Dwayne Bell, Marjorie Turk, Jennifer Pulver, David Burgreen, Lynette Fudenski, Michelle Fowler, Young Cho, Cathy Cartwright F.R.: Heidi Fanslau, Vicki Barker, Priscilla Montgomery, Todd Richards, Joe Lin, Edmund Fanslau.

Speech Team: Mr. Ward, Teresa Brown, Alex Irvine, Kim St. Martin, Jim Carlson.

The speech team capitalizes on teenagers' love of talking as they represent our school in debates and tournaments, as individuals and in team competitions. Open to all full-time students, this club is a great way to meet others and to qualify for college scholarships. Competitions range from individual speech contests to all-weekend team competitions. Because it is strictly an extra-curricular club, the speech team members train after school. Either Mr. Ward, club advisor, or veteran members coach the beginners and each other. Eagle speakers are a close-knit group who enjoy the fun and frustration of competitions as well as beach parties and all the social contacts that team sports provide.

The purpose of the German Club is to extend the education of the language. To properly function in a different society, it becomes necessary to know not only the language but also the culture of the people. The German Club gives the students an opportunity to experience the German culture's many amenities such as a large variety of foods and life-styles.

German Club Officers: Priscilla Montgomery, Charles Kenna, Ed Fanslau, Marjorie Turk.

Good grades are an intricate part of being a member of the California Scholarship Federation, or CSF. Joining CSF isn't an easy task. A member must have a minimum of ten points in college prep classes, an "A" counting as 3 points and a "B" as 1 point. These Granite Hills students are striving toward a Seal-Bearer of Life membership. This is accomplished by being a member for a certain number of semesters. The seal will appear on the member's diploma and all official documents.

Que pasa? Qui-est? Was ist hier los? What's happening? For the International Club, or "I" club, the answer is lots! Weekly meetings and trips to California's tourist attractions form the core of this group's activities. Designed to assist foreign students in their social and financial adjustments, "I" club is open to all students. This year's six exchange students hail from Japan, France, Italy, Germany, Finland and Ghana. These junior ambassadors speak to classes in our school district about their homelands. Other activities include an annual convention, parties and picnics. Many friendships around the globe start here.

"I" Club Officers and Exchange Students: T.R.: Curt Clason, vice-president; Peter Benyah, Ghana; Dwane Bell, president; Pascale Landy, France; Cyndie Ellett, secretary; Keiko Aida, Japan; Grazia Romani, Italy; Kirsten Lorenz, Germany; Cindy Dickey, treasurer.

The roar of the crowd and smell of greasepaint have infected numerous students, thanks to the GHAW, Granite Hills Acting Workshop. This prestigious group includes not only those good enough to receive acting roles in the three annual productions but also anyone interested in backstage and other technical theater jobs. The high quality of all productions is assured by competitive tryouts for all parts, on and off stage. Cast parties, and the many hours they spend together, weld those involved in each play into a close group. The striking of the set, as the official end of each production, rings down the curtain and signals the start of another round of tryouts, rehearsals and production.

Tradition plays a major role with GHAW. A comedy, drama and musical, in that order, make up the school-year drama season. Mr. Bosworth directs all aspects, assisted by Mrs. Bobbi Jordan and parents on costumes and other back stage work such as set production. GHAW also rounds out every school year season with a lavish banquet and awards voted by the academy, faculty and staff who view and review all of the plays.

Students are the heart of this program even though the faces may change with the change in plays. At tryouts, students compete for coveted acting roles as well as student director and positions in the technical theater such as sound, lights, props, sets, make-up, costumes and stage crews.

This year's season included The Mouse That Roared, Dark of the Moon, and Guys & Dolls. Our deadlines allowed the yearbook to feature only the first play, but students and community enjoyed the full bill.

F.R.: Beckey Biorn, secretary; Kim St. Martin, communications; and Ter Brown, points.

THEIR BLOOD

Parting is such sweet sorrow for Tully Bascomb (Charles Kenna) and Glorianna (Mary Reynolds).

Mr. B records his latest masterpiece and catches some actors off guard.

The men of Grand Fenwick (Charles Kenna, Larry Stevens, Darrin Holmes, Don Ethridge, Danny Martin & Kirk Ison) prepare for their invasion of New York City.

The WACs (Terri Brown and Dee Dee Baker) stare down the Fenwickians.

THE MOUSE THAT ROARED

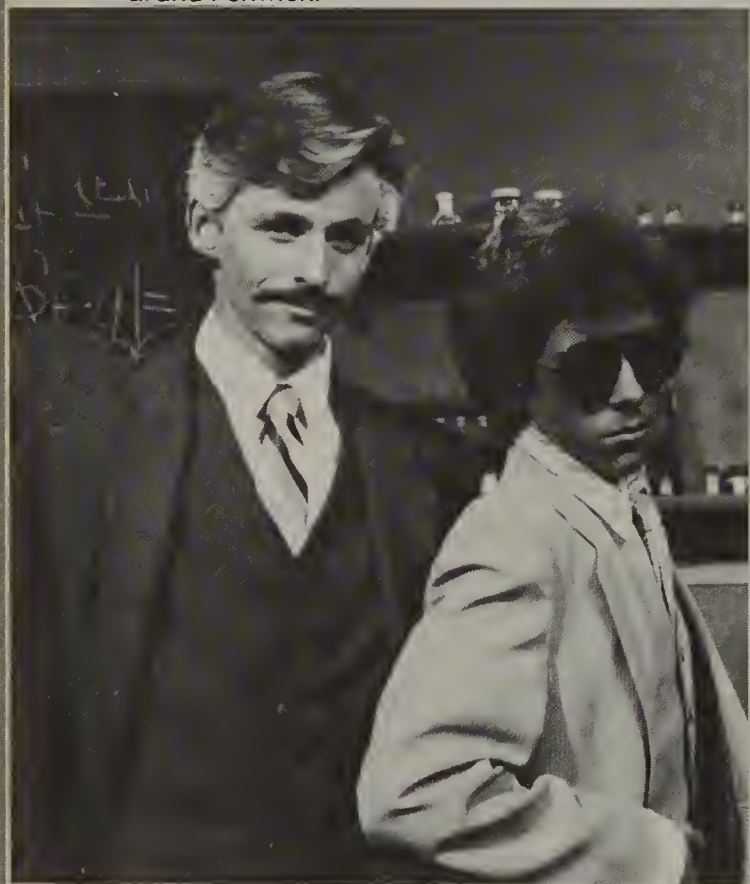

Glorianna's counselors (Jeff Weaver, Mary Reynolds and Rhon West) continue their incessant debate over foreign policy.

The intrepid American tourists (Becky, Kim, Mercedes, and Lisa) are awed by Grand Fenwick.

Toby the Mime (Cassie Farrar) entertains The Mouse That Roared audience.

The American president (Alex Irvine) and Secret Service Agent (Bob Doty) greet voters.

The people of Grand Fenwick and their visitors listen to the mouse as it roars.

CREATIVITY FLOWS

Susie Lower, Editor; Mr. Sebastian, Advisor.

Poetry, pictures, photographs, and prose are all a part of "Reflections," Granite Hills own literary magazine. "Reflections" is circulated each year before Christmas to approximately 500 Granite Hills students. Any student may submit their works and art to the "Reflections" staff, and the staff, through a point system, selects which poems and essays will appear in the magazine. Through the dedication and hard work of Mr. Sebastian, the advisor, his creative writing class, and a staff of seven students, "Reflections" is produced each year for the students of Granite Hills.

Long hours, hard work and play were commonplace for the energetic Pageant staff this year. Sure, there were days that didn't end until 9 or 10 p.m. and even some holiday workdays, but after each of the deadlines, the staff celebrated with pizza, Mexican potlucks, or seasonal delights.

Yearbook is an exclusive class, open only to those who pass a screening which involves a written application and an interview conducted by the advisor and Editor-in-Chief (both present and "to be"). This process has produced a competent staff that has met all deadlines and produced a book they are proud to stand behind.

ASB STRIVES FOR PERFECTION

ASB Officers: Susie Saunders, secretary; Becky Edelman, president; Jim Carlson, vice-president; Richard Butcher, attorney general.

A new and positive approach was taken this year in ASB. All of the activities in 1983-84 reflected attitudes of change or a "new beginning." Some of the familiar areas are still covered, and new ones have been added.

All ASB class members expect their school year to start on the Friday after graduation and to continue through graduation the following year. In fact, ASB meets at least twice a week all summer to prepare for their heavy responsibilities. Furthermore, this class meets more than the traditional one period by using the entire fourth period block, including both lunches, most days. Outside of class, all class members are expected to help with school activities so that ASB is represented at every school event. The school year starts with ESP which is coordinated by ASB. Then come school assemblies such as the Pep and Christmas assemblies, as well as Homecoming, elections and the memorable Candy Sale. ASB also oversees all campus clubs, sells ASB cards, and guides all the finances of student clubs and organizations. Their duties extend further into selling tickets, running concessions at games, planning dances, and generally looking out for student interests.

But the hard work has its own rewards. An ASB notation on a resume or college application helps to get a job or get into a fine school. After major deadlines, the ASB has social events to celebrate the end of the campaign and to prepare for the next job. The hard work and long hours also lead to close friendships among class members and a sense that together they have been real leaders and have contributed to the spirit and excitement that Granite Hills is known for.

ASB hopes that everyone will look back on the eventful year of 1984 with fond memories of a great year in their lives.

Commissioners: Tobi Steward, Sandy L'Italien, Sydney Brown, Wendy Coy, Charlie Moreno, Sahar Atiq, Mary Maguire, Gary Eckwortzel, and Laura McMillan.

Showing her usual serious attitude that helps make ASB fun as well as hard work, Ms. Owens leads the ASB.

Sandy - These past 2 years have been more than interesting - from the "embryonic" stages of our 1st assembly last year to our well-developed "air band" experience of this year - we've done it all - There have been good times and bad times but I've made a promise to myself to remember with special fondness the good times. You've helped me learn more about myself - Thanks for that. K.Li

A DAY IN THE LIFE OF ASB

Commissioners like Carlos relax between jobs.

"Let me tell you about our great ASB," Mary suggests.

Ms. Owens can chew a pencil and think at the same time!

"What — me worry?"

ASB means friendship as well as hard work for Gary and Sheri.

"Hey, not bad, for a beginner," Richard thinks.

Jim demands to be heard.

Sahar wonders if anyone can identify her mysterious object.

People at Granite Hills seldom know what the planning of "big events" entails. The ASB begins planning for the occasion far in advance. Separate committees must coordinate with each other to produce the final product. Often the ASB is faced with many events that take place at one time. We must organize everything to fall into the right place. The cooperation with not only the ASB class, but also everyone at Granite Hills has been fantastic. Thank you to everyone involved. Becky Edelman, President

SANDY: IT WAS GREAT HAVING YOU IN MY CLASSES AND WE GOT TO BE FRIENDS (EVENTUALLY) I NEVER TOOK YOU TO A DANCE (EVENTUALLY) I AND I HAVE A GREAT TIME IN A.S.B. WE'RE OUT! OF SCHOOL.

Campus Life has something for everyone!!!

Campus life is a Christian-oriented club which meets every Tuesday evening. Activities this year included the Burger Bash, the Scavenger Hunt, and the Scream in the Dark Haunted house. Campus Life is a place where kids can get together and talk about everyday problems and not-so-everyday problems which we all face. Kids of all grades are eligible. It is a fantastic place to meet new friends, have a terrific time, try some interesting ideas, challenge old and new problems, talk to someone in confidence, and be your own person. There are no prerequisites — JUST COME!

Eagle cheerleaders spell out "Hello" at a Pep Assembly

"We've got Spirit, yes we do! We've got Spirit, how about you?!" These words were often shouted by enthusiastic Eagle fans on cold Friday nights during the football season as our Varsity cheerleaders led the rowdy crowds in cheer. Varsity cheerleaders play an essential part in producing our school spirit, not only by cheering at football games, but also by appearing at various events of the year such as the Pep assemblies and other sports. The cheerleaders each spent many hours supporting all athletic groups and promoting spirit across Granite Hill's campus.

Thanks to the Clarion staff, Granite Hills has a fantastic newspaper that keeps our school informed on important activities on and off campus. Approximately 2000 newspapers are distributed each month to the students and faculty. Receiving a good grade in Journalism 1s and demonstrating abilities for the various positions are prerequisite to acceptance on the staff. Those positions include the Editor-in-Chief, News ed., Sports ed., Editorial ed., Features ed., and their assistants, Circulation manager, Add manager, and Staff photographers and artists. With wide smiles on their faces, the J.V. Cheerleaders led the crowds in spirit. Although the turnout at the J.V. sport events was considerably less than the Varsity games, this group of dedicated girls cheered themselves hoarse to promote Eagle Spirit. The J.V. Cheerleaders also appeared at the Pep Assemblies held this year and cheered along with the Varsity squad. Many of these girls will turn up in September as Varsity Cheerleaders and carry on the tradition of Eagle Spirit here in "Eagle Territory."

The Symphonic Band is a group of approximately 60 musicians who enjoy both performing and competing during the Symphonic season. With the excellent direction of Mr. Darrell Downs, the band has received excellent and superior awards at both the local and regional level. The Band performs classical and new band material, as well as popular and Broadway show music at concerts and other performances. Performances include the Christmas concert and the Pops concert in May at the El Cajon Performing Arts Center, and competitions at the district and regional festivals. Some students perform in the solo and ensemble festival in the early spring, and, if selected, the Southern California Honor Band, and California State Honor Band. In addition, the Symphonic Band takes a three day competitive trip in the spring, stopping by a popular amusement park on the way. All in all, the band is a very enjoyable experience for all those involved.

Students that actively participate in both Marching and Pep Bands spend many hours involved in both activities. Dedicated musicians rehearse every school day from 2:30 to 4:00 in the Jr. parking lot for approximately the first eleven weeks of school, enduring both hot and cold weather. These hours paid off, as this year the Marching Band placed 2nd at the Columbus Day Parade in San Diego, 1st place at the Chula Vista Band Review, 4th at Mt. Carmel Parade and Field Show Competition, 3rd at Arcadia Band Review, and 13th at the All-Western Band Review in Long Beach, where the band competed against 80 of the top bands in California. Some of the musicians who are in Marching Band also participate in the Pep Band. This group played at all away football games, all home basketball games, and at pep assemblies.

STUDENTS HIT THE SLOPES

Ski Club took two weekend trips to Mammoth, one in January and one in February. Regardless of ability, students had an outrageous time hot-dogging down the steeper slopes or relaxing with friends on the Bunny Slopes. After an exhausting run, students grouped together the final night around the fire. Both trips were a real success, and the club would like to see even more people next year.

Defense huddles to plan strategy.

Hard playing and a never-give-up spirit characterized the Eagles Football season this year. The team fought back after losing 3 of their first 4 games to end up with a 4-4-1 record.

The powerful #1 ranked Eagle defense, led by coach Dave Barrus, dominated most of the Grossmont league. Coach Barrus inspired and sometimes surprised his team by grabbing a helmet and cracking heads with the players to demonstrate a drill. The defense was led by all leaguers Pat Eaton, Craig Slack, Jim Rinks, and Brian Allen.

The offense, led by seniors Jeff Briggs, and Neil Hayes, and Juniors Bruce Weber and Eric Rainer, struggled against some of their opponents, but played well toward the end of the season.

Barbequed steak dinners before each game helped to boost morale and create excitement. Being a part of an Eagle football team will be remembered by the players and coaches for years to come.

A record 15 freshmen played on the junior varsity football team this year. The junior varsity's 2-5-2 record was not as good as they had hoped, but the team showed definite progress as the season went on.

Donnie Harmon, Todd Parker, and Mike O'Malley all played well for the offense.

The defense was led by Keith Smith, Jim McMahon, Jason DeGroote, and Derek Sexton.

The junior varsity team is often overshadowed by the varsity, but the coaches feel that there is a lot of potential talent on this young squad. There is always next year.

EAGLES SERVE UP

In 1983, as in 1982, the Varsity Volleyball team finished the year as champions of the Grossmont League. This was by no means an easy task, but rather an outstanding achievement, considering the caliber of league play this year. The Eagles' record, though, of 15-1 proved better by far than the rest, and well deserving of the first place position.

Jenny Crocker picked up the Grossmont League Most Valuable Player award for the second year in a row. She dominated net play and intimidated unsuspecting opponents with her spiking and setting skills. Jenny, along with Kellie Barlow and Leisa Hagen, made the First Team All-League, while AnnaMaria Padilla and Helen Luke earned spots on the All-League, Second Team.

In the post season play-offs, the Eagles won in their first round, but emerged unsuccessful from the second. This loss was disappointing, but the Eagles are still number one!!!

MVP Jenny has the "killer spike."

Finishing 2nd in league play, the Junior Varsity Volleyball Team also had an outstanding season. Coach Coy Owens said that all the players were skillful, but Debbie Mims, Lori Hagen, and Sheri Guseman especially excelled. The team was large, consisting of 21 girls. The season was tough and full of surprises, but the team did a superlative job compiling a 14-2 record. Next year should prove to be at least as successful as this year for the varsity squad with exceptional players such as these moving up from JV. 1984 just may be the year the Eagles take the CIF crown.

The 1983-84 Girls' Varsity Basketball team had an average season, the highlight being the defensive squad. The leading scorers were Priscilla Montgomery, Michelle Lane, and Cheryl Bryant. Each afternoon, the girls practiced hard for two hours doing sprints, drills, and freethrows. Coach Neel did an excellent job as coach of the Varsity team. The girls rode the bus with the boys' team to away games, and these rides are well-known for being rowdy. At the end of the season, the team holds an awards banquet. Each team member picks a secret pal and gives her a gag gift at the banquet. Overall the Girls' Varsity Basketball team had an enjoyable season.

A quick cut by Richard Butcher sends the opponents scrambling.

At mid-season, our basketball team was playing a winless season. Finishing low in league standings has become a trend for the Granite Hills basketball team in recent years. The broken fortunes of the team, though, are not for lack of drive, as was shown by team leaders Scott Lanham, Richard Butcher and Tom Shawcroft.

Scheduling practice times was a particular hurdle this year because, for the first time, both boys' and girls' basketball competed in the winter season.

According to Coach Gordon Thompson, "1983-84 must be considered a big disappointment. The development and improvement expected did not occur. The team played hard and was in many close games, but the wins did not come. Scott Lanham was super. His outstanding floor game may have been overlooked, as he was one of the leaders in league play with close to a 19-point average for most of the season."

Sophomore Sean Sterling comes in first, again!

This was a year of distinction for the boys' Cross Country teams. Emerging from a cloak of mediocrity, the team forged to a 5-3 record and glowed in the new-found respect they acquired. Heading the charge were Sean Sterling, Mike Ieler, Steve Rader, and Mark Lange, all to return next year.

The girls' team, the largest in the Grossmont District, continues its pursuit of improvement. Since most of the runners are freshmen and sophomores, their rewards, respect and distinction will come soon. Stephanie Golden, Susan Burgreen, Catherine Halte, Marjorie Turk, and Tania Sieg led the Eagle charge.

"Hey, Gregg, head it my way."

Our boys' soccer team this year is the pride of the school. They have high hopes to win and go all the way to C.I.F. Coach Arrieta calls this team the "baby birds" since most of his players are underclassmen. Top players this year were Scott Emery — goalie; Todd Prentice — center forward; Wally Polcyn — mid fielder; Danny Kiehl — center fullback. The best game of the year for the Eagles was when they shut out Valhalla 4-0 in an away game. Another memorable event was when they won the Christmas tournament undefeated. No one ever scored against them. Beside playing soccer, our team shared many good times together like having pizza after games and having fun at Ted Decoteau's house. Coaches this year were Ricky Valenzuela and Eddie Arrieta.

B.R.: Lisa Jennings, Stephanie Golden, Stephanie Winkleman, Paula Tjarks, Seana Jones, Heather Gilbertson, Melissa Stokes, Joeline Tweed, Ellen Bergan, Cheryl McColl, Aimee Roberts.

The girls' soccer team began their first season with high expectations and much enthusiasm. Center fullback Lisa Jennings, striker Cheryl McColl, sweeper Athea Salas, and goalie Heather Gilbertson showed their spirit and determination by leading the team to many victories. Coach Mike Farrar explains, "We have a very young team, with seventeen out of twenty-four girls either freshman or sophomores. Our girls aren't as experienced as Valhalla, Monte Vista, or Helix, who play higher quality ball, but besides our inexperience, the team is doing an outstanding job." The most memorable early season game, against Helix, ended in a 1-1 tie.

Farrar hopes to have more support in the coming seasons, with more spectators and support from the district. Because the district does not sponsor the teams, the girls had to pay a $50 fee to cover the cost of referees, uniforms, and equipment. Girls' soccer at Granite Hills has gotten off to a great start which will hopefully lead to a great future.

The 1983-84 wrestling team had a very successful season with coach Pete Grasafi. With wrestlers like Jeff Briggs (245), Tony Arcamo (200), Ernie Castio (167), Paul Angulo (119), and Charlie Moreno (145), the team showed much improvement. The varsity team also had many strong underclassmen like Tim Briggs (125), David Meyers (100), Josh Thornburn (105). The team should be very strong in the future.

The wrestling team also has fun as well as working hard. On the weekends the team competes in tournaments and often goes to the beach. This shows that wrestling is not all work and no play.

The junior varsity wrestling team also showed much improvement this year. As strong as the junior varsity team is, the varsity team should not have any problem in years to come.

The only requirement to go out for wrestling is a physical and a few papers signed by the wrestler's parents. The practices are four days a week, two hours a day. Wrestling is a quickly-paced sport that is fun to watch. In the future, the team hopes to have more participation in this demanding sport.

MAT MAIDS

The mat maids played an important part in the wrestling season. Newly organized, under parent Mary Myers, the girls raised most of the funds needed to support the wrestling team. These ladies sell refreshments at games, wash cars, sell hot dogs at shopping centers, and set up jog-a-thons.

This year's Girls' Varsity Tennis Team had a great season. Overall, the girls came in fourth place after a fight against tough league competition. The team consisted of four doubles teams and five singles players. The number one doubles team of Kathy Roos and Pam Haughey was chosen for the second-Team All-League with a record of 30-18. The number one singles player was Marlene Maunder, who won many challenges over her teammates to obtain that position. Outstanding highlights of the year included such events as Kathy Roos and Pam Haughey upsetting the undefeated doubles team of Hunter-Jadoritz of Valhalla, 6-4. In addition, Beth Keltner and Heather Montgomery upset the strong doubles team of Horning-Plante of Valhalla, 6-4.

At the awards ceremony, recognition was given to some outstanding players as Most Valuable Player: Tracy Walker; Most Inspirational: Sahar Attiq; Sportsmanship Award: Kathy Roos; Chris Evert Award: Kathy Roos; and Coaches Award: Marlene Maunder. Also, the graduating seniors were given the spotlight. These girls were Sahar Attiq, Pam Haughey, Kathy Roos, Laura McMillan, Heather Montgomery, Debbie Dowell, and Tracy Walker. For the girls, it was a great year that they will never forget.

"Where's a teammate," Chip wonders.

Because of new coach, Craig Matern, there were some anxieties for the water polo teams. "However, everyone on the team thought he was great because he showed us new techniques and worked hard with us," comments Jim Davey. Chip Maynard, David Hackett, and David Voelkel were the backbone of the team. There are good relationships between all of the players.

This was a year of victories and change. The most noticeable change were the four girls on the JV team. Denise Holmes, Jennifer Riley, Melissa Riley, and Kim Germaine set a first at Granite Hills by showing superior efforts on the team. The team will always remember the super times after games — the awards banquet at Sir Georges, a video party at Mary Faircloth's and the alumni/student game. The alumni died out after three minutes per quarter even though regulation quarters last seven minutes. Another highlight was a ski party at Fiesta Island for both the Varsity and JV teams. Corbit Jones lost his shoes in the water.

Water polo is intense and may not be for everyone. Practices take place in the morning from 6:30 to 8:30 and afternoons from 3:00 to 5:00. Some types of shots practiced and used in water polo are the push, pull R.B. and the skip. Polo players must be in prime shape and be excellent swimmers to keep up with the practices and games.

EAGLES SHOOT FOR VICTORY

Many students were unaware of the deaf basketball team on our campus. Organized by Vadja Kolombatovic, our team is one of only four in San Diego County. Our Eagles practiced on Friday mornings and during second lunch in the gym for six weeks.

Several outstanding players were Steve Mayfield, co-Captain, playing center made 28 points; captain Gary Clarke scored 14 points.

The team hopes to play well enough to compete in a deaf high school basketball team tournament later this year in Los Angeles.

Defeating Mt. Miguel and losing to El Capitan on the same day, the boys' track team began its season with an even record. The win and the loss came on the same day because new league regulations replaced dual meets with tri-meets this year. Coach Brown said that tri-meets "stink" because events are too close together and often only two runners are allowed in each event.

New head coach Paul Wargo made workouts tougher this year. These vigorous workouts benefitted the team two ways. First, said coach Brown, "We had better runners last year, but this year we worked harder." Also, the team was in better shape and had less injuries. Top sprinters were Bruce Weber and Steve Smith, as Tom Williams and Steve Phillips led mid-distance. Mike Ieler and Russ Olsen were #1 in distance and field respectively. It was a learning year that held promise for both athletes and coach.

Front Row: Shannon Nielsen, Elaine Harrison, Stephanie Golden, Marjorie Turk, April Butcher and Sheri Guseman.

Marjorie's consistent wins were an asset to the team.

Although the girls' track team had some super talent, they had a tough year because the team was so small. The problem was depth. The team had stars in a few events but had to spread so thin in others that victories were hard fought.

The young team had lots of spirit, even if it lacked experience. They ate noodles and peanut butter for quick energy before meets. They also carried on the traditional track parties at South Mission.

Top runners were Marjorie Turk, Cindy Brancato, Tina Ingrassia, and Stephanie Golden. The best athletes in field events were Lori Hagen and Christy Gurode. It was unfortunate, said Coach Steve Brown, that "some of the best girls in the league decided not to compete this year." Brown looks to next year in hopes that both the new freshmen and the seasoned upperclassmen return strongly.

SWIMMERS TAKE THE PLUNGE

The boys' swim team this year had to overcome many obstacles. Due to lack of swimmers, we had only a varsity team. In addition to having only one team, we had only three divers, John Jackson, Tim Ranson, and Jay Jackson. John was an excellent diver, usually placing first in each competition. Other outstanding swimmers included Chip Maynard, Chad Cain, Ray Cook, and David Voelkel. Chip's specialty was the 50-yard free, 100-yard free, and 50-yard butterfly. Chad swam the 500-yard free while David aced the 100-yard breast stroke and the 200-yard I.M. Ray swam backstroke and the 100-yard butterfly.

The team practiced for two and one half hours, rain or shine. However, all was not practice. On one or two weekends per season, the team went down to Ski Beach and rode jet skis and had a generally good time at the beach. Although the team may not be first place material, these guys know how to enjoy their sport!

John Jackson dives to perfection.

On your mark, get set, GO!!!

Say what???

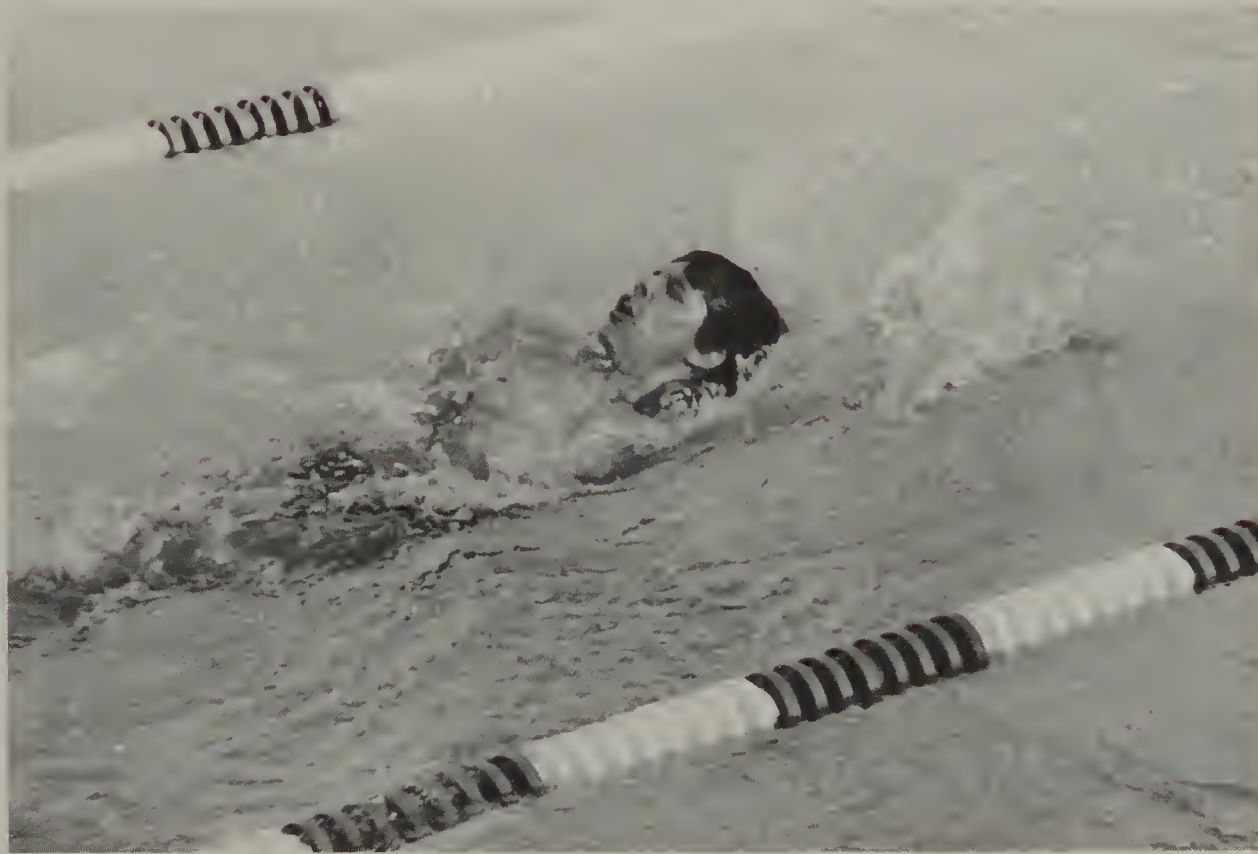

Coach Matern instructs his swimmers.

Obviously C.I.F. material, Chip.

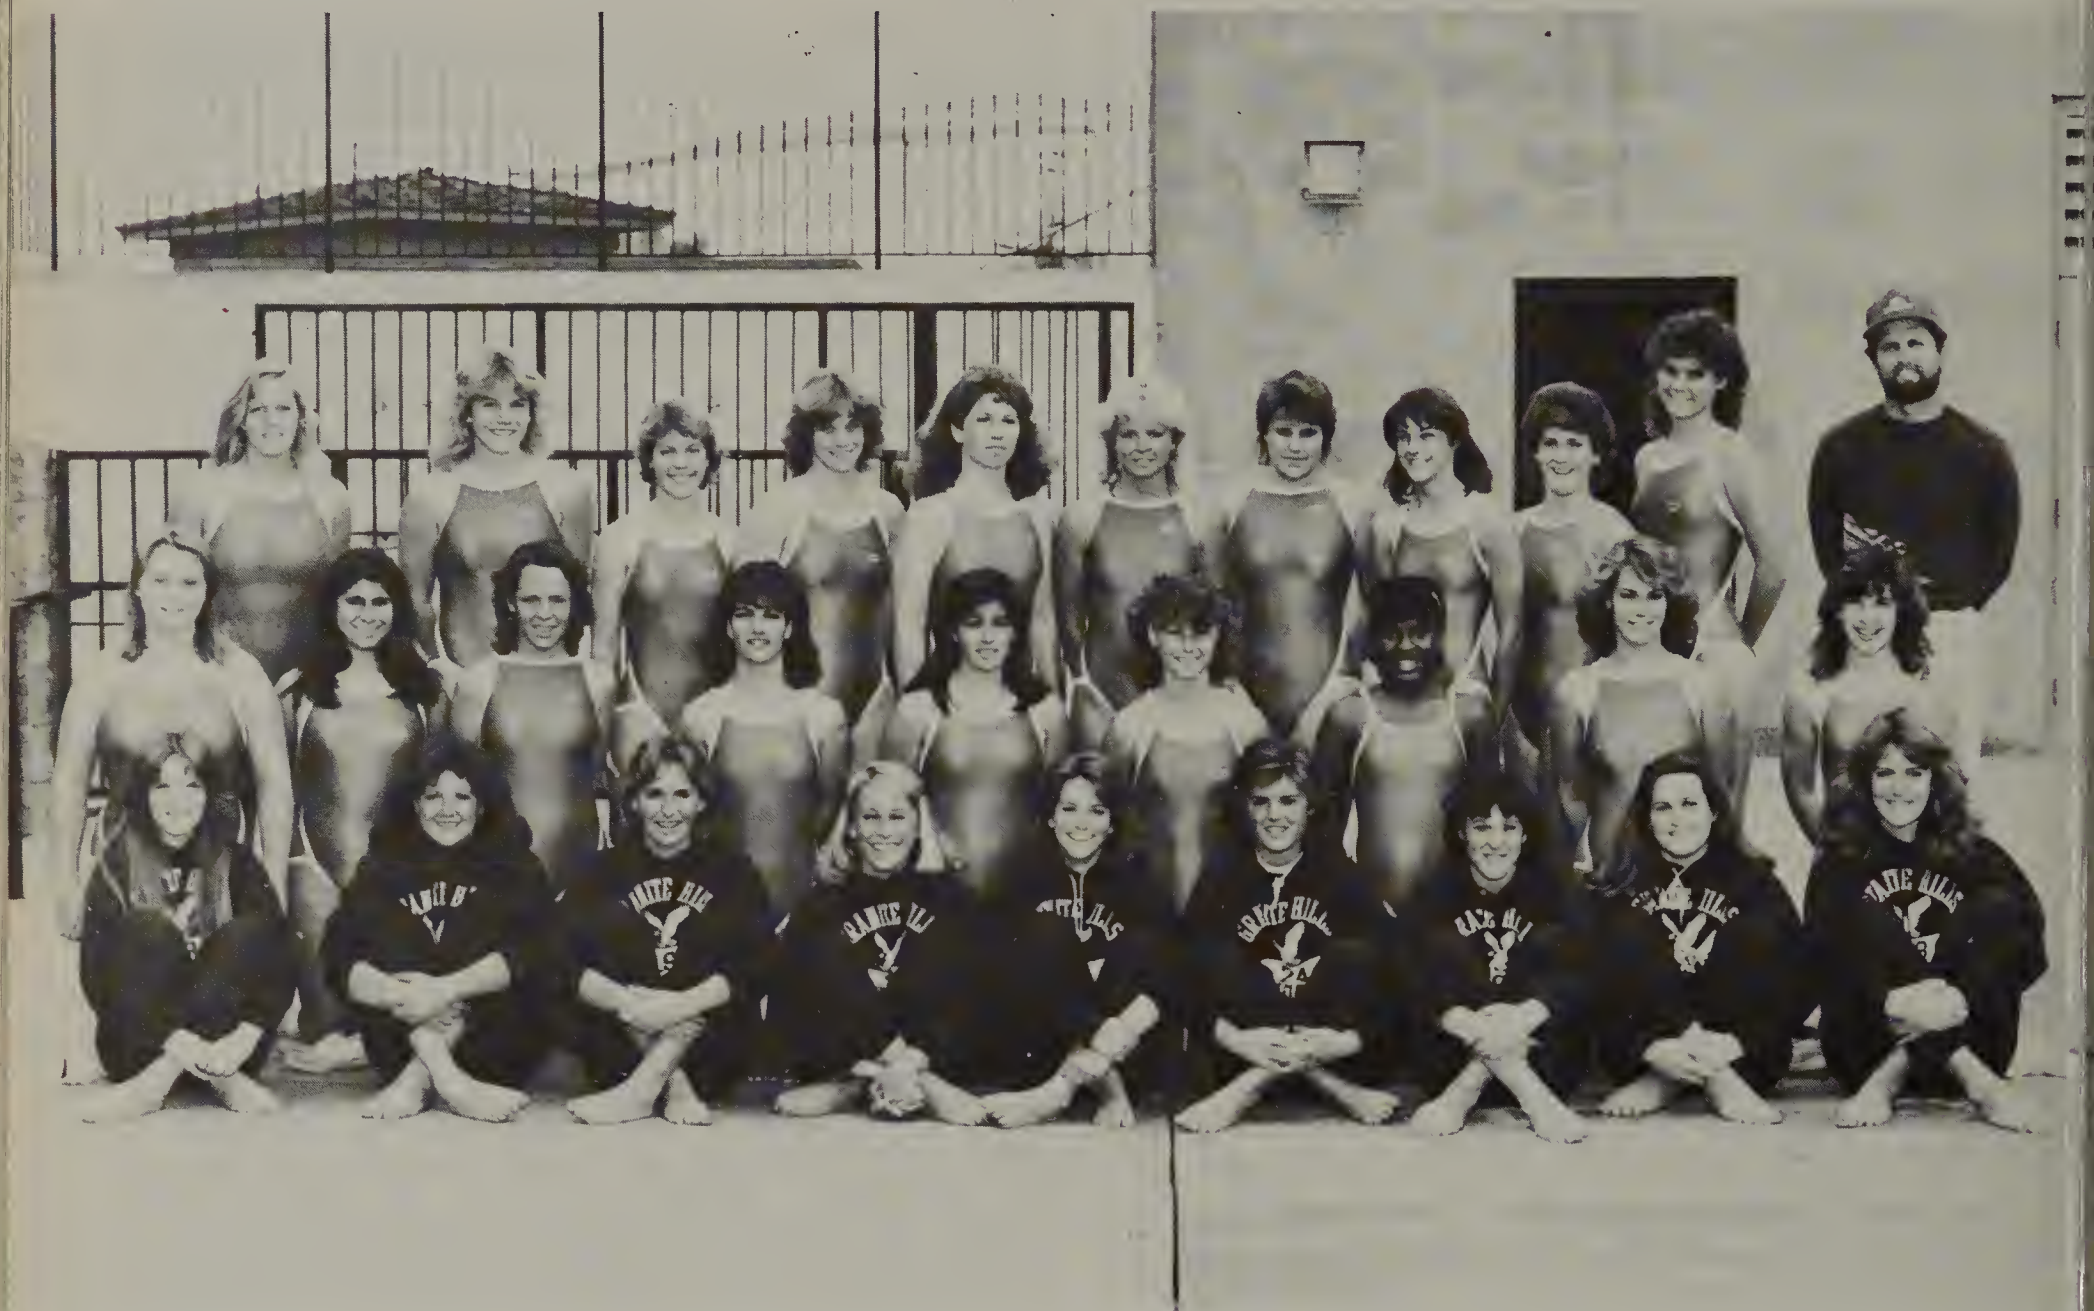

Do I really want to do this?

Victory doesn't come easy, does it, Ray?

The girls' swim team had a very successful season this year with six wins and two losses. Star swimmers on the team included seniors Wendy Hoffman, Sandy L'Italien, Becky Edelman, Sue Docoteau, and sophomore Kim Germain. On the diving team, senior Cindy Bentley did a fantastic job. The team's success was due to the contribution of Coach Steve Tucker. Steve did a great job at getting the whole team in shape. The girls put in a lot of hard work every day at practice but after the work was done, they had some fun. At the meets, the fun began with an exchange of "secret pal" gifts. Also, the spirit that everyone got led the swimmers on to victory. Next year, Coach Tucker hopes for a bigger turnout to round out both the swimming and the diving teams.

Take your mark, Wendy.

Sandola, Hi there goon!! Well what can I say, I hate your such a sweetie - I hate to leave you. You have made my high school years a big joke. I've partying with you and having a blast. I hope we get together this summer. You looked so beautiful from night. Love you, Don't forget Sachar 4-11-72

"Fore!" was a cry often heard on the Singing Hills golf course, the home course for the 1984 Eagle golf team. As Coach John McAdams said, "The Granite Hills golf club is composed of eager young players who show improvement with each match . . . A good word to characterize the team would be 'young', yet the future looks bright for the Eagles." According to Coach McAdams, the "nucleus of the club" was players Scott Emery, Tal Almquist, Andy Heiskala, and Summer Lee, all returning members. Challenging these players were Steve Wasserman, Glenn Whiting, Paul Pitman, David Curry, and Jarod Stammen. Two freshmen, Brent Marquand and Rex Stacey were also vying for top six positions.

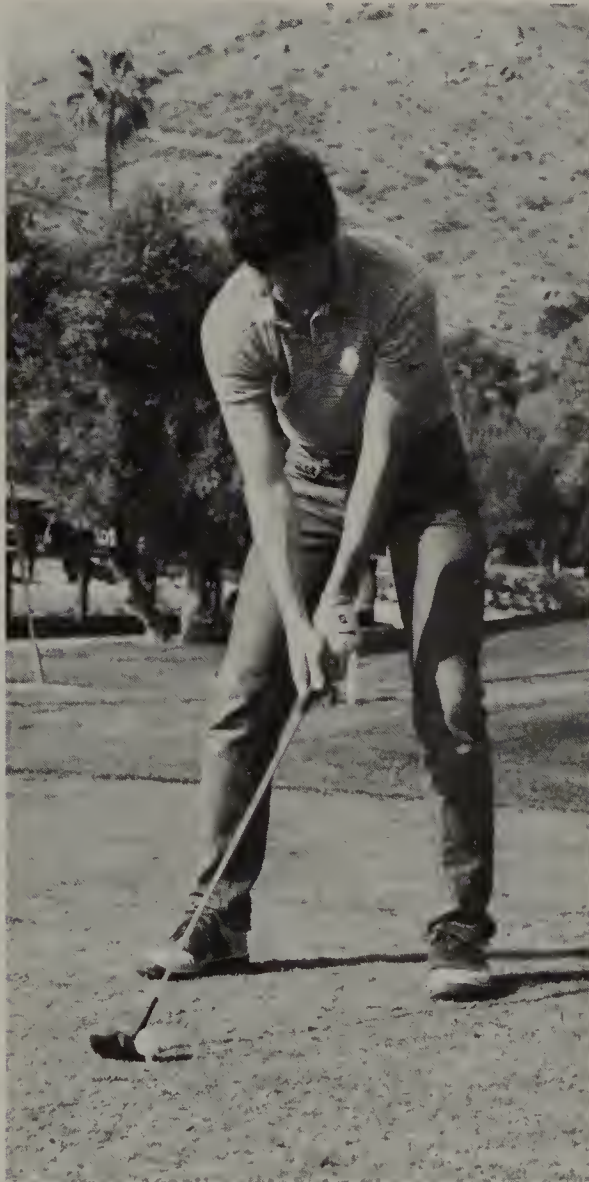

The team was hunting for a fourth place in league standings, acknowledging tough competition from the Santana, Grossmont, and Valhalla teams.

As the pitches unwound and bats began cracking, the softball season was underway, but off to a late start. The girls waited for three months longer than in previous years for the reason that their season was changed from winter to spring.

With strong returning seniors such as Sheri Spatz, Priscilla Montgomery, Janine Chase, and Tracy Simmons, this team has provided an excellent season. Underclassmen provided support and promised more great years ahead.

All the girls put forth great effort to improve their team. They attended SDSU softball games to get a few pointers to add to team strategy. The team worked very well as a whole, and this helped greatly to place them in top league standings.

Huddles before the game improve spirit and cooperation.

This year's junior varsity softball team experienced the term "new," beginning the season with only two returning players. Even the coaches, Mark Deesing and Bob Thomas, were new to the team.

Although many of the girls were novices to high school ball, they showed a great potential for the future. Because of many years involved in Bobby Sox or Ponytail softball, they adjusted easily to the intense competitions. The team consisted mainly of freshmen and sophomores who should provide the varsity with many players in the future.

Richard screams into third.

The varsity baseball team has been blessed with talent in past years, and this year was no exception. By the time league play had begun, Coach Gordy Thompson had many offensive as well as defensive threats. Offensively, the Eagles had good power at the plate with Damon Hansel, Brian Allen, Kyle Robbins, and Tim Harris all swinging big bats. On the defensive side, the Eagles were equally as strong with Harris in left field, Richard Butcher in right field, and Frank Carey at shortstop. Coach Thompson's pitching staff, which included Fred Helm, Mike Leisenring, Robert Magargal, Bob Adams, and Ted Georggin could prove to be the backbone of his '84 squad.

The Eagle team has been blessed with much talent, and this year they were also blessed with the opportunity to play on a much improved baseball field. Thanks to the coaches, the parents, and members of the community who donated much of the new materials, the '84 team was able to play on one of the finest baseball fields in the county.

This year's junior varsity baseball team, led by coach Tony Hoffman, appeared to be another talented group of Eagles. Evenly divided between sophomores and freshmen, the team showed much promise in the early part of the season. Leaders among the sophomores were Todd Parker, Jeff Schwartz, and Kirk Gerner. Talented freshmen included Don Carroll, George Bishop, and Kurt Southworth. This young team, which had more freshmen players than ever before, could prove to be one of the top teams in the league.

A favorite spring sport is gymnastics. This sport usually attracts girls, but this year the team was lucky to have Dean Henderson, a talented male gymnast. The team practiced every day after school to perfect their performances on the beam, floor exercise, uneven parallel bars, and the vault. The two coaches, Don Walker and Lori Downs, gave the team a lot of help and encouragement. This showed in the team's performances in their many meets. The first meet went very well, with Gina Tuttle, Tanya Hightman, and Kim Betscher all placing very highly. Other promising gymnasts on the varsity team were Jenny Cummings, Tina Brown, and Kelli Morton. With all of those promising athletes in the sport of gymnastics, the year went very well.

SEASONED PLAYERS RALLY

At the start of the tennis season, expectations were high. The Varsity Squad had many strong and experienced players. Seniors like Scott Jacobs, a 3-year varsity returnee, Rich Winn, a 1983 Second Team All-League player, and the talented doubles team of Ed Fanslau and Lloyd Robbins lead the team. Juniors who contributed to the success were Tom Tryforos, who alternated with Scott for the #1 position on the team, and the returning All-League doubles team of Mark Edwards and Erik Rainer. The improvement of junior Bill Thomas also added to the depth of the team.

The Junior Varsity, too, had high goals. Adding points to the "W" column were sophomores Brent Ford, Tom Ham and Jim Patterson.

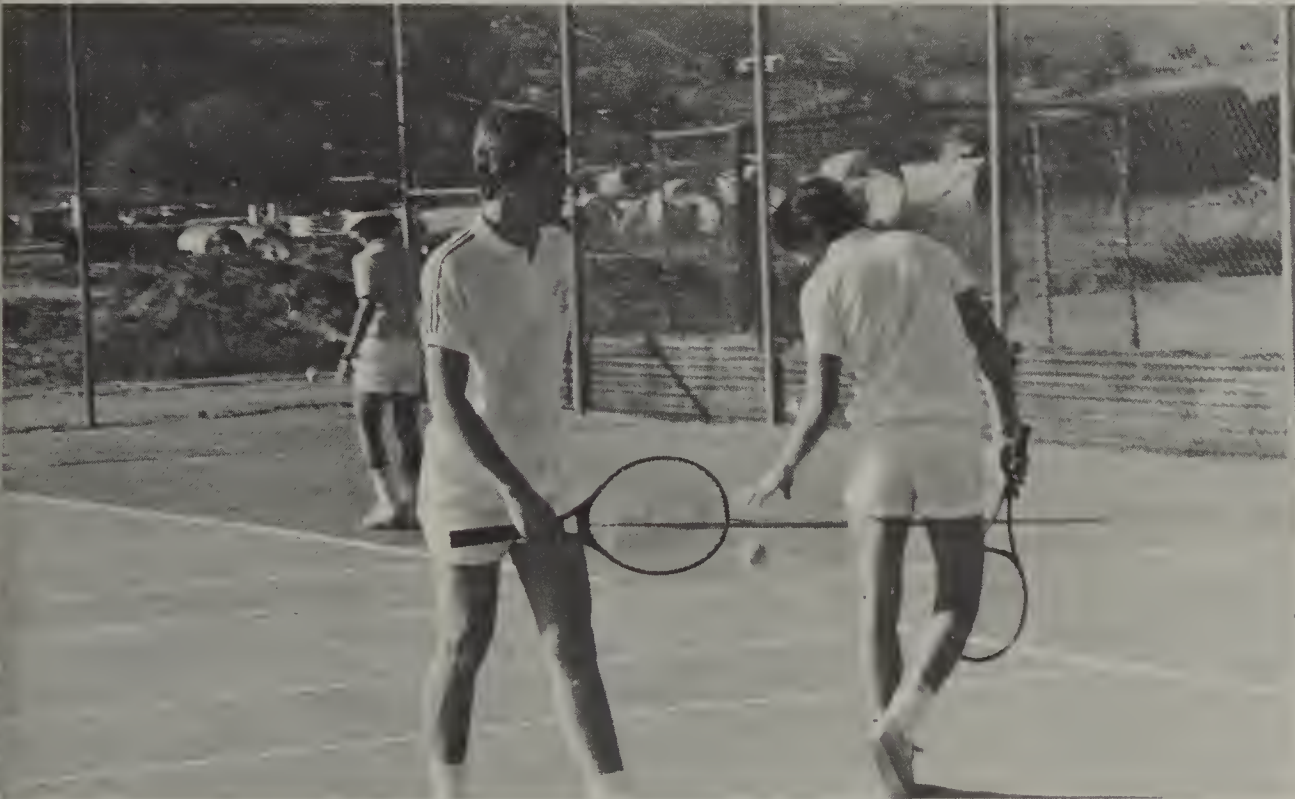

The tennis program has expanded from last year. Coach Underwood predicted this large team would finish no lower than 3rd in league. Many interesting personalities comprised this group of close friends. Most of the players improved their skill by taking lessons year-round.

Being on the tennis team is more than going to practices and taking lessons, though. The boys played what Coach Underwood called "Pizza Doubles Matches" to break the monotony during the season, while having some great food, too. The highlight of the year remains till the end of the season — The Parent-Son Doubles Tournament, in which a player and his parent compete with similarly composed teams. The tournament is fun for all the families, especially the tournament winners.

All the home matches were played at Valhalla High School or Montgomery Middle School this year, due to the shortcomings of Granite Hills' own courts. As The Pageant's deadline neared in March, this team looked like it would post the best record in years!

FACULTY

"CHALLENGE" IS OUR MOTTO

Once upon a time a young woman came to Granite Hills as a counselor. Career advancement led her away to other schools, but then the "Big GH" called her again. Of course this is our new principal, Dr. Jo Ann Smith.

After teaching at Helix for six years, Dr. Smith came to Granite Hills in 1970. Later when Valhalla opened in '74, she transferred as a counselor and eventually became a vice principal.

Dr. Smith enjoys her return to Granite Hills, which, in her opinion, "... was an excellent school when I was here in '74 and still is."

But this pride in our school does not imply she wants to keep everything as it is now. Her style includes listening to suggestions, aware that, "no one person can make meaningful changes alone." One change she would like to see though, is for the students to push themselves a little harder and realize early in life how important and valuable an education is.

Challenge is a word Dr. Smith uses to describe her job. She adds the philosophy that she likes "challenges and ... being able to influence decision making."

Her final comments summarize her upbeat attitude: "Granite Hills has everything going for it: good students, a great faculty and staff, and strong parent support. Whenever you have that winning combination, as we do, you have a very effective school."

We wish Dr. Smith much success in the future here at the home of the Mighty Eagles.

Dr. Jo Ann Smith, Principal

L to R: Paul Wargo, Dan Arens, Bob Guess.

"New Horizons" are reflected in our administration, which has two new members, in addition to a new principal. Mr. Guess, shares the job of vice principal with Mr. Arens. Together, these gentlemen take care of student discipline. Their firm, yet friendly approach has been very effective.

Housed part of his day in the same office area, Mr. Wargo is a teacher on special assignment who takes care of attendance problems.

All have active lives outside of school, too. Mr. Arens enjoys bowling, handball and skiing and is the Ski Club Advisor. He has also coached numerous sports. Mr. Guess has also coached and was a scout for a major league baseball team. Mr. Wargo, former ISS teacher and football coach is coaching track this year.

Granite Hills wishes to thank you for your help.

With the commotion of people running here and there, we enter the well-known Guidance Center. Here, students can turn for help in changing schedules, finding scholarships, choosing the right college, what classes are appropriate, information about Armed Services, and testing dates for college admissions.

Many people who work in the Guidance Center are outdoor fanatics. They enjoy such activities as travelling, running, backpacking, playing tennis, and many more sports.

These dedicated people in the Guidance Center feel a great deal of pride in helping the students to achieve their goals and to get a good start in the "real" world.

WRITING'S ONLY A PART

Certainly the English department is a vital force on campus. One great attribute is its interaction with students, outside as well as within the classrooms. Teachers in this department sponsor many extra-curricular activities, including G.H.A.W., Reflections, C.S.F., Pageant, A.S.B., Clarion, Speech Team, Senior Class and the Academic Decathlon.

Mr. Farrar lectures to his class.

This department strives for excellence. Although the writing program is the strength of the department, the literature classes, which offer a broad range of electives from Mythology to Shakespeare to Science Fiction, also provide for a well-rounded education. In addition, all levels of learners are stimulated in homogeneously grouped classes, from those in the honors program to the slow and average learners.

Back, L-R: Norma Cowden, Kathy Owens, Mike Farrar, Barbara Brooks
Front: Don Gracia.

A great deal of talent lies within the English department: an actress, a doctor, a lawyer, Phi Beta Kappas, members of the National Writers Project, a dancer, and published writers.

Students will long remember the joys and anguish of studies in this department, like staying up until 4:00 a.m. scrambling to finish a research paper (with footnotes) or reading Julius Caesar and A Tale of Two Cities. Debates and a chance to see the Old Globe troupe in action, and many other memories of our outstanding English department will remain with us a long while.

ACADEMICS SPUR INTEREST

Mastering a foreign language can help with more than just meeting graduation requirements or ordering soup in a foreign land! Today, many jobs require bilingual skills. Granite Hills students are lucky to have an excellent foreign language staff, many of whom are native speakers of the language they teach.

Those who take German can join the German club to further improve their understanding of German and German-speaking culture. Mrs. Zumwalt has thought of many creative ways for one to accomplish this.

Whichever language you decide to take, you will learn much, thanks to our wonderful foreign language staff.

Mr. Hoffman "rocks" after hours!

Social studies is a really stimulating class for most students. Remember the psychology class during adverse and positive conditioning week, and their "vals?" Mr. Williams, the Honors psychology teacher, even takes his class on numerous field trips to observe people.

In their off hours, social studies teachers have many favorite "hobbies!" Some coach sports, such as football and baseball. And with the help of Mr. Arrieta, Mr. Williams does professional remodeling during the summer. Mr. Lincoln does professional landscaping. Would you believe Mr. Lindsey used to be a boxer? Mr. Ellett enjoys fishing, and Mrs. Hoyle loves sailing and traveling. Social studies teachers are as social as their title suggests!

The math department, one of the largest at Granite Hills, offers classes such as Algebra 1 & 1, Geometry, Consumer Math, Pre-Algebra and Calculus. When the Pageant went to Mr. Hauser to find out about the teachers in his department, he had this to say:

The numbers folks are college grads, photographers, builders and active dads, musicians and coaches who use charts and grids with computer precision to tutor the kids. They're sailors, bakers, and politicians too, teaching electronic golf before the decade is through!

LOOK AND LISTEN!

The Groundsmen are probably the most overlooked staff members of our school. Being the largest school in the district, the three of them have a big job. They work year-round in order to keep up our school. Some of their many tasks include washing sidewalks, trimming trees, watering lawns and maintaining the athletic fields. Their main job is to beautify the school, but often they get stuck cleaning up after students!

Our campus security officers, affectionately known as Narcs, have many jobs; from overseeing study halls and ISS to supervising the loading and unloading of the buses. Off campus, one is a male model and another is a track coach!

Mr. Murphy really knows how to jam!

Have you ever wondered where the music that hovers near the Quad comes from throughout the day? Well, it is the sounds which are produced by the music department.

The teachers who advise these groups, Mr. Murphy and Mr. Downs, are very avid music fans. They have spent the majority of their lives involved in music and now carry on that tradition by encouraging younger generations to do the same.

Mr. Downs was in the Grossmont High School Band and in the very first Mother Goose Parade. He then went on with his musical training and eventually began to teach in various schools throughout the city until he came to Granite Hills. Here he is involved with the Symphonic, Marching, Concert, and Pep Bands.

Darrell Downs, Raymond Murphy

Mr. Murphy has also spent the majority of his life involved with music. He attended Harvard University where he majored in music. He is now very active in all the Chorus groups at school and also plays the organ for his church choir. Through the music department many fond memories have been formed not only by the students but by the advisors as well. Many great times were had while developing great musical talents.

CREATE A BASKET OR NEW PHYSIQUE

Rolf Lotz, Charles Bray, Lee Sweenes

Attention creative people! Here's a chance to learn and demonstrate creative skills. The art department has many classes for those who like to do things for themselves such as; Photography, art, crafts etc ... Each teacher is a professional in his field. Many teachers and students alike enter their creations in contests like the Del Mar Fair and have awards to show for their accomplishments. All these classes are fun for accomplished artists and putterers alike.

Mr. Grisofe recruits a new team member.

Remember having to dress out in less than four minutes, run a lap, and then take a physical fitness test? Sure, because this is what every student must do in his 'P.E.' class. After this is out of the way, the students can play a variety of sports.

Because the coaches are interested in teaching the students new games and techniques, they often demonstrate by participating in the activities.

In order to keep up with the recent trends in recreation and physical fitness, Coach Coy Owens and the rest of the Physical Education department are now offering many new types of classes. They have included a semester-long weight training program and rhythm classes which include aerobics, jazzercise and dance.

FUTURES BEGIN HERE

Want to build a bookcase, repair a car or become a welder? These and many more skills are taught in Industrial Arts classes.

After the first semester, which is hard because of the written work, students enjoy building projects. Jokes fill the air, along with sawdust and the whine of saws and drill presses. Only the end of the period clean-up and perhaps a low grade for sloppy or incomplete work dull the pleasant memories of these classes.

Teachers in this department are coaches, the Radio club advisor, and weekend athletes. All enjoy an active life.

Included in the Business department are classes such as Typing, Computer Programming, General Business, and the Business Application Lab; each is important to a well-rounded business education. Perhaps the most popular business class is Computer Programming. Since computers are a vital part of our future, many take this course and then go on to a career in computers, or a related field.

Things that will always be remembered by most business students are Mr. Decker's timed typing tests, Mrs. Franzini's mind-boggling computer finals, and playing computer games in students' spare time!

L to R: Dan Martin, Mike Davis, Howard Mass, William Johnson

Students often retreat to the library for peace and quiet as well as research. There Mr. Baumgartner orders and maintains the 25,000 book collection as well as magazines, records, and tapes. He's also the jolly man who introduces students to the library. In his spare time, he enjoys the theater and, of course, reading.

Mrs. Spisak, his female sidekick, keeps the library quiet and makes sure the check-out system runs smoothly.

Mr. Dawes, tucked away in the back room, is always busy. Every piece of equipment that shows pictures or makes noises is his job to keep running.

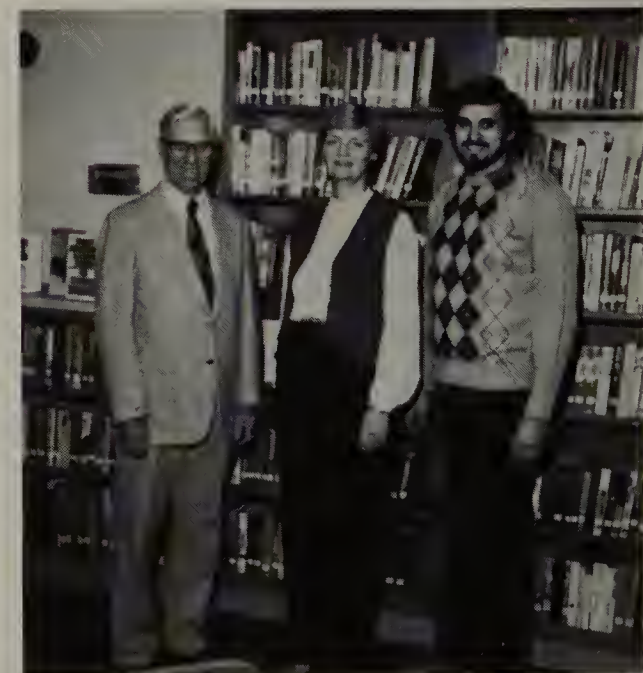

The behind the scenes work of these three opens up many opportunities for us all.

EAT AND BE MERRY

Do you like corndogs? Soft pretzels with lots of mustard? Nachos? Homemade cookies? These are a few of the items made daily by the people behind the lunchlines. Every day, this staff comes in early to start preparing the day's menu because everything is made by the staff.

The head of the department, Gwen Wenn, has a motto about their services. "The students here are our customers and I would like to treat them as I would like to be treated." The whole school benefits from the services of this staff. Keep up the good work!

"On Your Own", "Family Relations", "Housing and Interior Design", "Child Development", "Food Discoveries", "Creative Foods", "Speciality Foods", and "Clothing", comprise the large and varied program of our Home Economics Department. The courses are continuously updated to meet the changing needs of the students and to stay abreast of many changes in this field.

Students remember the mock wedding put on by the Family Relations class, the nursery school run by Child Development students, the foreign foods buffets served by the Speciality Foods class, and the senior luncheon in Creative Foods.

The Special Education Center at Granite Hills has undergone an organization change this year. One large department now serves students from all over the district with special needs such as language problems, physical handicaps, multiple handicaps, deafness and hard of hearing.

In the science department, we have many talented teachers who have a variety of interests. Mr. Salyer loves to hunt and even has his own taxidermy business. Folk dancing is Mr. Stowers' favorite extra-curricular activity. Mrs. Huson is a nationally known wildlife sculptor and a junior college teacher. Mr. Schmidtke loves to sail. Our science teachers add excitement to classes some might otherwise find dull.

Our science classes leave us with many memories! Who could ever forget dissecting the squirting worms and those dreaded timed microscope tests in biology! How about the horned rimmed glasses we used to wear during chemistry labs? And remember those gruesome films in driver's ed., like "Red Asphalt"? Yes, for us, science classes were anything but boring.

TO MAKE A GREAT SCHOOL

Whenever anyone needs directions or help, they head for the Tom Selleck-decorated front office run by Mrs. Faubion, whose smile is contagious.

If the contagion is a sickness, though, they visit Mrs. Meza, Health Clerk and Mom away from home.

Mrs. Arsenault and Mrs. Martinez have to send out call slips for the VP's, but they're also a pleasant pair to meet.

Between the VP and Health Offices is Mrs. Bebout. There students nervously frown, pause, and calculate answers to competencies they need to pass to graduate. Her helpfulness enables all of us but the most terrified to relax and do well.

Across the hall, Mrs. Decker and Mrs. Morris keep track of grades and programs.

Probably the noisiest corner of these offices is the one shared by the bookkeeper and duplicating office. Our appropriately named bookkeeper, Mrs. O'Coyné, takes care of all student accounts and more in an office that sounds like a miniature stock exchange.

Only Mrs. Rice's duplicating room seems busier. Through all the calls for "30 copies I need in 10 minutes", sorting films, and giving out office supplies, Mrs. Rice remains one of the most outgoing people on our staff.

We are extremely fortunate to have this efficient family of friends to help us out and make coming to school more enjoyable.

Kit 447-4445

We've reached the school year's end. No more finals, no more exciting gossip sessions between breaks, and for some, no more high school.

1983-84 had so much to offer in so many ways. Each of us made a few more friends, learned a few more things, and most importantly, each of us grew a little more.

It seems like only yesterday that the school year was just beginning and after a summer of working or maybe playing at the beach, none of us wanted to return to the books. And then Christmas was here, which meant a variety of activities that were all spelled the same way: VACATION!!! Starting second semester was like the beginning all over again, and then Spring break was here. Now the year is at its end and graduation is just around the corner. What does the future hold? What will we be doing next year? Even with all the memories that high school holds, it's time for us to move on. Hopefully, our "new horizons" won't be old and cloudy, but fresh and clear, like the dawning of a new day.

I would like to express my thanks to Barb — “All Night Long”, Mica — looks super!, Laurie — the best yet, Brenda — it’s actually not boring!, Celeste — you’re a life saver!, Susie — your efforts were great, Heidi — interesting section!, Michelle — you had to put up with so much!, and lastly, special thanks to Ms. Cronyn — you’re a fantastic lady.

Many thanks to Boyd Anderson Studios — John Stickney & John Nelson — you two were great!, and lots of thanks to Dick Kerr — you always knew we’d make it! Many thanks over to the Granite Hills faculty and student body for all your cooperation.

On a more personal note, I would like to thank my parents for all their patience, understanding, and support, Ms. Cronyn for always standing behind me, and especially Barb & Mica for always having time for their crazy editor!! Thanks to my staff for all your time, patience, and effort. You made my experience as Editor-in-Chief very rewarding. We’ve made a fantastic book, and I hope you’re as proud of the book as I am. I know I will look back on 1984 as an intense and exciting time of my life. Thank you for letting me represent Granite Hills in its memories of 1984. I wish everyone the best in their lives ahead.

Most sincerely,

Cyndie Kay Ewert

 and its been great having you as a friend. Now stay out of my life (joke!)
 No, but seriously, I think we have a lot of memories.
 I'm really thankful I knew you think I would have made it through a few of my classes without you two. Thanks for all the great party times

 Sandra - it was really tough trying to keep up with your pace (joke!) I hope you stay as friendly and funny as you are cause you'll go far in life kid. Have

Well, it's been a while but finally we're through. ^{Had}
It was the best of times, it was the worst of times. ^{the}
I know that we really haven't been all that good of friends lately and I know what you think but it sure has been fun. You are a napkin
"tamponid" I don't ever want you to run around so much that you get "pooped out", this would be tragic! College life will be very different without you in my english and history classes to do last minute papers with.
I suppose we'll get along alright. I wish you the total best of luck in whatever you decide to do and for sure we'll have to keep in touch.

I love ya,
Mary Kay

Sandy, hey this is the second annual that I have signed, wow! Yeah, I will never forget my party and how eager you were to pull your pants down - there just might be a future in that!! Remember when "we" did the quad and they cleaned it up - how frustrating. Well, well, the pokie was fun even though you made me eat shit of a skateboard and my underwear showed to all these guys - you rag! It's been fun partying and all, dragging through AS.B. We Hanged - what about Shakespeare - YUK! You ditched me on my scene. Oh well, I hope, (I know) we will have a lot more fun
in the future!
Love ya!

HEY L'ITALIEN,

HOW'S IT GOING? I AM REALLY GLAD THAT
WE ARE FRIENDS BECAUSE EVERY DAY I COME
TO SCHOOL I CAN LOOK FORWARD TO HAVING YOU
CHEER ME UP WITH YOUR SMILING FACE. I AM SO GLAD THAT YOU LET ME SIGN YOUR ANNUAL BECAUSE NOW I CAN BRAG TO
EVERYONE THAT I ACTUALLY HAVE SIGNED
THE ONE AND ONLY SANDY L'ITALIEN'S
ANNUAL. SERIOUSLY I HOPE YOU LIVE YOUR LIFE TO
THE FULLEST AND DON'T PARTY
TO HARD.

PAUL ANGILO

Sandy,

I'm sorry to see you go!
You're a super sweet + pretty lady and I'm glad we had a chance to meet. I hope all of your dreams come true! Good luck in whatever you do. Take Care!

Love
~~Steve~~ "85"
